Important Information for 1997

1. Formula for apportioning business income for income tax purposes has been changed (Act 682 of 1995).

For purposes of apportioning corporate business income, the sales factor is doubled, added to a single property factor and payroll factor, and the total is divided by four. Effective for tax years beginning January 1, 1995.

2. Act 1160 of 1995 has been passed to amend various sections of the Arkansas code pertaining to income tax and to clarify that "person" includes a "Limited Liability Company".

3. Tax Credits for Income Tax Paid by an S Corporation (Act 721 of 1993).

This Act allows a resident shareholder of a S Corporation to claim a credit against his Arkansas individual income tax equal to his pro rata share paid by the S Corporation to a state which does not recognize S Corporation status.

4. Small Business Entity Pass Through Act (Act 1003 of 1993).

A Limited Liability Company is a hybrid business entity with characteristics of a Sub S Corporation and a limited partnership. The members of a Limited Liability Company are shareholders in that they have no personal liability for the debts of the Limited Liability Company. A Limited Liability Company is required to file a partnership tax Form AR1050.

Act 479 of 1997 amends State law concerning limited liability companies (LLC), the Uniform Partnership Act, and the Revised Limited Partnership Act to allow mergers and consolidations between LLC's, corporations and partnerships. Currently, partnerships are not included in the merger provisions. The franchise tax provisions are amended to apply to LLC's.

5. Changes to Form AR1100S

Due to computerization, it is absolutely essential that every applicable line and space on the AR1100S form and related schedules be filled out including tax year. If Arkansas figures are not the same as Federal figures, then both Federal figures and Arkansas figures for each line item on the AR1100S must be shown. Copy of complete Federal return is now required to be attached to the Arkansas return.

Page 1 of Form AR1100S is used only to report income and expenses related to trade or business activities of the corporation. Income and expenses related to rental activities and portfolio or investment income and related expenses are not reported on Page 1 but should be reported on the Federal Schedule K-1 which should be attached to Form AR1100S. Provide Federal Schedule K-1 information for each shareholder and show the Arkansas distributive amount for each applicable line item on the schedule. This change is necessary to comply with the passive activity limitations.

6. Taxpayer's Bill of Rights (Act 590 of 1989).

The Commissioner of Revenue must provide a taxpayer contacted concerning the determination or collection of any tax, a written statement detailing the taxpayer's rights and the Commissioner's obligation during the audit, appeals, refund and collection process.

7. Privately Designed Tax Forms.

Computer generated substitute tax forms are not acceptable unless the computer generated format is approved (in advance of use) by the Manager of the Individual Income Tax Section.

8. Mailing Label.

Please use the label on the front of this booklet when filing your return. Make any necessary corrections to the Label and place it in the address area of the form AR1100S you file.

WORKSHEET FOR APPORTIONMENT OF MULTIPLE CORPORATION

For corporations with income from sources within and outside the State:

In general, taxpayers with income derived from activities both within and outside the State (Public Utilities and Financial Organizations excepted) are required to allocate and apportion the net income under the following provision:

Business and non-business income defined - Article IV 1 (A) defines "Business Income" as income arising from transactions and activities in the regular course of taxpayer's trade or business and includes income from tangible and intangible property if the acquisition, management, and disposition of the property constitute integral parts of the taxpayer's trade or business operation. In essence, all income which arises from the conduct of trade or business operations of a taxpayer is business income. Income of any type or class and from any source is business income if it arises from transactions and activities occurring in the regular course of a trade or business. In general all transactions and activities of the taxpayer which are dependent upon or contribute to the operations of the taxpayer's economic enterprise as a whole constitute the taxpayer's trade or business and will be considered "Business Income," unless otherwise excluded by statute.

Business income is to be apportioned to this state by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor plus two (2) times the sales factor, and the denominator of which is four (4).

The average value of property owned by the taxpayer means the average of the original cost of the property at the beginning and ending of the tax period.

Property rented by the taxpayer is valued at eight times the net annual rental rate.

Tangible personal property includes inventories.

The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid in this state during the tax period by the taxpayer for compensation, and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid everywhere during the tax period.

Compensation is paid in this state if: (a) the individual's service is performed entirely within the state or, (b) the individual's service is performed both within and outside the state, but the service performed outside the state is incidental to the individual's service within the state or (c) some of the service is performed in the state and (1) the base of operations, or if there is no base of operations the place from which the service directed or controlled is in the State or (2) the base of operations or the place from which the service directed or controlled is not in any state in which some part of the service is performed, but the individual's residence is in the state.

The sales factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total sales of the taxpayer in this state during the tax period and the denominator of which is the total sales of the taxpayer everywhere during the tax period.

Sales of tangible personal property are in this state if: (a) the property is delivered or shipped to a purchaser, other than the United States Government, within this State regardless of the f.o.b. point or other conditions of the sale or (b) the property is shipped from an office, store, warehouse, factory, or other place of storage in this State and (1) the purchaser is the United States Government or (2) the tax payer is not taxed in the State of the purchaser.

Sales, other than sales of tangible personal property, are in this State if: (a) the income producing activity is performed both within and without the State in which event the income allocable to this State shall be the percentage that is used in the formula for apportioning business income to this State.

The following items of income to the extent that they do not constitute business income are to be allocated to this state:

1. Net rents and royalties from real property located in the state.
2. Net rents and royalties from tangible personal property; (a) if and to the extent that the property is used in this state; or (2) in their entirety if the commercial domicile is in the state and the taxpayer is not organized under the laws of or taxed in the state in which the property is utilized.

The extent of utilization of tangible personal property in a state is determined by multiplying the rents and royalties by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property in the state during the rental or royalty period in the taxable year and the denominator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property everywhere during all rental or royalty periods in the taxable year. If the physical location of the property during the rental or royalty period is unknown or unascertainable by the taxpayer tangible personal property is utilized in the state in which the property was located at the time the rental or royalty obtained possession.

3. Gains and losses from sales of assets;
  - a. Sales of real property located in the state.
  - b. Sales of tangible personal property
    - (1) The property had a situs in this state at the time of sale, or
    - (2) The taxpayers commercial domicile is in this state, or
    - (3) The property has been included in depreciation which has been allocated to this state, in which event gains or losses on sales shall be allocated on the percentage that is used in the formula for allocating income to the state.
  - c. Sales of intangible personal property if the taxpayer's commercial domiciles in this state.
4. Interest and dividends if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in the state
5. Patent and copyright royalties. If and to the extent that the patent or copyright is utilized by the taxpayers in his state, or if and to the extent that the patent or copyright is utilized by the taxpayer in a state in which the taxpayer is not taxable and the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.

A copyright is utilized in a state to the extent that printing or other publication originates in the state. If the basis of receipts from copyright royalties does not permit allocation to the states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the copyright is utilized in the state in which the taxpayer's commercial domicile is located.

Prior approval required before deviation from the allocation and apportionment method.

If the allocated and apportionment provisions as set out above do not fairly represent the extent of the taxpayer's business activity in this state, the taxpayer may petition for, or the Director of Revenue, Department of Finance and Administration may require, in respect to all or any part of the taxpayer's business activity, if reasonable:

1. separate accounting;
2. the exclusion of any one or more of the factors;
3. the inclusion of one or more additional factors which will fairly represent the taxpayer's business activity in this state; or
4. the employment of any other method to effectuate an equitable allocation and apportionment of the taxpayer's income.
